SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001	03-md-1570 (GBD)(SN) ECF Case

This Document Relates to:

Burnett, et al. v. Islamic Republic of Iran, et al., 15-cv-9903(GBD)(SN)

MEMORANDUM OF LAW FOR ENTRY OF PARTIAL FINAL DEFAULT JUDGMENTS ON BEHALF OF BURNETT/IRAN PLAINTIFFS IDENTIFIED AT EXHIBIT A

(BURNETT / IRAN XXXX)

For the reasons set forth below and in the accompanying declaration of John C. Duane (“Duane Declaration”), the Plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A to the Duane Declaration filed contemporaneously with this application, by and through their counsel, Motley Rice LLC, respectfully move this Court for an Order awarding them (1) economic damages for the plaintiffs identified in the expert reports attached as Exhibit B to the Duane Declaration; (2) prejudgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually for the period from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment; (3) permission for the Burnett/Iran Plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A to seek punitive damages or other damages at a later date; and (4) for all other Burnett/Iran Plaintiffs not appearing on Exhibit A, to submit applications for damages awards in later stages, to the extent such awards have not previously been addressed.

The Plaintiffs identified at Exhibit A have previously received a judgment from this Court for their pain and suffering damages in this case. As this Court has previously ordered, “Plaintiffs [previously awarded damages for pain and suffering] may submit an application for ... economic damages ... at a later date consistent with any future rulings made by this Court on this issue....” See ECF No. 5092. The Plaintiffs identified on Exhibit A are seeking only economic damages to be combined with their prior awards for pain and suffering damages. This motion is meant to supplement their prior pain and suffering judgments on this front.

Plaintiffs sued The Islamic Republic of Iran, the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps, and the Central Bank of the Islamic Republic of Iran (collectively, “the Iran Defendants”) in connection with the 9/11 Attacks. On December 1, 2016, all plaintiffs in the action Thomas Burnett, Sr., et al. v. The Islamic Republic of Iran, et al., Case No. 15-cv-9903 (GBD)(SN) (“Burnett/Iran”), moved for judgment as to liability only. 15-cv-9903 ECF Nos. 65, 66, amended on December 6, 2016, 15-cv-9903 ECF Nos. 68, 69. On January 31, 2017, the Court granted plaintiffs’ application for judgment as to liability only. 15-cv-9903 ECF No. 85. The plaintiffs that are party to this application, as identified in Exhibit A, are a subset of the plaintiffs who have been granted judgment as to liability only, and rely on that judgment as to liability only for their request for supplemental default judgment as to economic loss damages. The plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A now request entry of partial final default judgment against the Iran Defendants as to their claims in the economic loss amounts indicated in Exhibit A.

I. Procedural Background

The Plaintiffs identified on Exhibit A are Plaintiffs who previously received judgments for pain and suffering only but who are now submitting supplemental claims for economic loss. None of the Plaintiffs listed on Exhibit A have previously sought damages for economic loss.

II. Supplemental Damages Sought Under § 1605A

Section 1605A of the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act (FSIA) creates an exception to sovereign immunity allowing a foreign state to be held accountable for acts of terrorism or the provision of material support or resources for acts of terrorism where the acts or provision of support or resources were engaged in by an official, employee, or agent of the foreign state while acting within the scope of his or her office, employment, or agency. 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(a)(1). The statute specifies that damages are available “for personal injury or death,” 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(a)(1) and (c)(4), and include “economic damages, solatium, pain and suffering, and punitive damages.” 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(c)(4). Courts addressing the damages available under the statute have held that, among other damages recoverable, “family members can recover solatium for their emotional injury; and all plaintiffs can recover punitive damages. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623 at 2-3, quoting Valore v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 700 F. Supp. 2d 52, 83 (D.D.C. 2010). The Plaintiffs listed on Exhibit A now seek damages for economic loss and for prejudgment interest on any economic loss damages determination.

A. Economic Damages

The FSIA specifically provides for economic damages. See 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(c). The economic damages provision is “designed to compensate [a] decedent’s heirs-at-law for economic losses which result from [the] decedent’s premature death.” Flatow v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 999 F.Supp. 1, 27 (D.D.C. 1998). Accordingly, “the beneficiaries of each decedent’s estate [are]...entitled to recover the present value of economic damages, including lost wages that the decedents might reasonably have been expected to earn but for their wrongful deaths.” Valore v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 700 F. Supp. 2d 52, 81-82 (D.D.C. 2010), citing Heiser, 466 F.Supp.2d 229. Thus, for example, Judge Royce C. Lamberth of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, in a series of decisions issuing final judgments against the Islamic Republic of Iran under the FSIA, has held Iran “liable for the economic damages caused to decedents’ estates.” Roth v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 78 F. Supp. 3d 379, 399-400 (D.D.C. 2015), quoting Valore, 700 F.Supp.2d at 78.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> In adopting this estate-accumulations calculation, Judge Lamberth recognized that case law under the FSIA was “develop[ing]...a federal standard” and looked to the law of the District of Columbia, which it concluded was “an appropriate model” to adopt and which calculated economic damages as the loss of accretions to the decedent’s estate. Roth, 78 F.Supp.3d at 82.

Previously, this Court awarded economic damages in each Havlish case for the “economic losses stemming from the wrongful death of the decedent[.]” See ECF No. 2623 at 2-3. In doing so, it adopted the economic loss calculations set forth in the Havlish plaintiffs’ economic expert reports. The Burnett/Iran Plaintiffs have retained the services of the same expert economist, Dr. Stan V. Smith, to submit his extensive economic analyses that detail the significant economic losses suffered by the decedent estates in this case. Exhibit B to the Duane Declaration is being submitted to this Court under seal due to the significant amount of sensitive financial data contained therein.<sup>2</sup> Dr. Smith has opined utilizing his standard methodology on the economic losses sustained by each of the individual decedents and their estates. His reports outline, introduce, and delve into the expert methodology that he has employed for each of the decedents while also providing a breakdown of the summary of both past and future losses for the following categories: (1) loss of wages and benefits; (2) loss of pension benefits (if they exist); (3) loss of housekeeping and home management services; and (4) loss of value of life, also known as the loss of enjoyment of life. As Dr. Smith states in each of the reports, “All opinions ... are rendered in accordance with generally accepted standards within the field of economics and are expressed to a reasonable degree of economic certainty.” All subsequent reports for the remaining decedent estates are rendered in summary form while also stating the basis for certain assumptions, consumption rates, and other material economic data utilized to render these opinions.

<sup>2</sup> Magistrate Judge Netburn has permitted the filing under seal of these materials given their sensitive contents. See ECF No. 5716; see also ECF No. 7963 (permitting these reports to be filed under seal via ECF).

The Burnett/Iran Plaintiffs respectfully ask that this Court award economic damages in each of the cases listing economic loss in Exhibit A as supported by the expert reports submitted by Dr. Smith.

B. Prejudgment Interest

An award of prejudgment interest is within the sound discretion of a trial court and is warranted when plaintiffs are delayed in recovering compensation for non-economic injuries caused by acts of terrorism. See Baker v. Socialist People's Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, 775 F. Supp. 2d 48, 86 (D.D.C. 2011). This Court awarded the Havlish plaintiffs prejudgment interest at a rate of 4.96% on their pain and suffering damages awards, to be calculated from September 11, 2001 until the date of judgment (ECF 2619 at 13-14). This Court, recognizing that prejudgment interest was appropriate in cases such as this case, adopted the magistrate judge's reasoning, finding that an award of prejudgment interest was appropriate and accepting the rate of 4.96%, as proposed by the Havlish plaintiffs' expert.

After the Havlish award, plaintiffs in Ashton and Bauer proposed, and the Court agreed, that prejudgment simple interest at the New York State statutory rate of nine percent per annum was appropriate in cases where the injuries arose in New York and the prejudgment interest used in Havlish, 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually, should be reserved for only those cases where the injuries arose in other states. See ECF Nos. 3229 at 2; 3300 at 1; 3341 at 1.

The Second Circuit has held that New York State's statutory prejudgment interest rate should apply to the damages awarded to World Trade Center complex leaseholders in their litigation against American Airlines and United Airlines brought under the federal Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act ("ATSSSA"). World Trade Farmers Market, Inc. v. American Airlines, Inc. (In Re: September 11th Litigation), 2015 U.S. App. LEXIS 16619, *66 (2d Cir. Sept. 17, 2015). In that case, the Second Circuit concluded that a federal cause of action under the ATSSSA must look to state rules concerning prejudgment interest. Id. Accordingly, the Second Circuit held that New York's statutory prejudgment interest rate of nine percent as opposed to a lower rate crafted under federal law, had to be applied to the plaintiffs' 9/11 claims. Id.

However, more recently, in Hoglan, Magistrate Judge Netburn recommended that the 4.96 percent interest rate for prejudgment interest should be applied to all of the solatium claims. ECF No. 3363 at 28-29. Judge Daniels adopted Judge Netburn's Hoglan Report in its entirety and applied the interest rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually to all of the claims. ECF No. 3384 at 6.

In light of the Court's decision in the Hoglan matter, applying the 4.96 percent rate to prejudgment interest, the Burnett/Iran Plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A respectfully request that the clerk be directed to award prejudgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually, running from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment.

III. Conclusion

For all of the reasons herein, as well as those set forth in the submissions of the other plaintiffs in this case and plaintiffs in the other 9/11 related cases in the In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001 multidistrict litigation, the Burnett/Iran plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A respectfully request that this Court award them (1) economic damages for the plaintiffs identified in the expert reports attached as Exhibit B to the Duane Declaration; (2) prejudgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually for the period from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment; (3) permission for the Burnett/Iran plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A to seek punitive damages or other damages at a later date; and (4) for all other Burnett/Iran

Plaintiffs not appearing on Exhibit A, to submit applications for damages awards in later stages, to the extent such awards have not previously been addressed.
